SECTION 1 - DESCRIPTION

INTRODUCTION

The Rowe Wallette Wallbox is a remote control unit for operating Rowe/AMI phonographs, Hide-aways and competitor phonographs. The Wallette provides complete control of the phonograph selection system.

The low profile and compact size make both selection and service easier. Pushbuttons control volume and illuminate the waitress call-to-service light. A single knob smoothly turns easy-to-read title pages. Twelve display panels hold miniature album covers, or can advertise food and drink specials. The Stereo Round* speakers are placed at a 30 degree angle for good channel separations.

MAJOR COMPONENTS

The Wallette is built so that each of its major components can be easily repaired or replaced. Identification and location of major components are shown below.
